Bird Count Walkthrough May 23, 2023

Helen reports...

A stunning day today - I am sure it is causing confusion in the plant and bird world.

There was wonderful bird song everywhere. The thrushes contributing hugely at the entrance.

I counted the best I could but there were many more birds today.

In the Kohekohe forest it was even more wonderful with bellbirds, tuis and silvereyes giving a chorus of thanks for the kohekohe flowers!

The flowering seemed almost over, rather sparce I thought, and there were many flowers on the ground. It is quite early this year. Maybe there will be more to come?

The Carex valley was very quiet - I walked as far as the bird count site.

But back near the Dell on Bernard's loop track the song was remarkable again, the thrushes, tuis and silvereyes.

Up top by the kamahi I was treated to a close up and perfect view of the male bellbird who lives in the old kanuka, looking in very good shape and a beautiful olive green.

15 species and a very approximate count of 77

A good day to be at the farm!

Until next time,

Helen

The Search for the Whareroa Weka

Some months ago, there had been some reports of potential possible weka sightings in Whareroa Farm, but no definitive confirmatory proof.

If you see one, do let us know (whareroa.guardians@gmail.com) with as many details as possible (time, place, behaviour) and most ideally with photos and videos.
