Kohekohe Trees Flowering

Kohekohe trees are flowering on the Kāpiti Coast!

At Whareroa Farm Reserve, in the next 2-3 weeks, a walk through the kohekohe forest loop will be rewarded with the sight and fragrance of sprays of kohekohe blossom. There are flowers on tree trunks and in the canopy. Noisy tui and flocks of silvereyes are busy feeding. Underfoot, the ground is scattered with flowers and fruit.

Photos from May & June 2021. These trees don't flower every year - so get out there and check them out while the going is good!

Thanks to Sue for the info and the photos
